

Job Description:
Director, Preparing for Life program.

Do you want to make a difference? Do you want to have an impact in the lives of at-risk teenagers?

Omaha Street School has just the job for you—Director, Preparing for Life program.

This full-time position includes two core responsibilities:

GAP U which provides an intentional year-long gap between high school graduation and post-secondary education or full-time employment. This program is targeted toward at-risk students who have difficulty applying their learning to future education and career aspirations.

OSSVocational (OSSV) provides the stepping stone for connecting high school to their life after graduation. High School Students completing this program will receive a diploma for their academic achievements and certification in a specific vocational area, for employment after graduation.

We are looking for a high energy, innovative individual who can take the vision of Preparing for Life and run with it, creating robust programs which will change the lives of our students.
